The above theme days are recognised nationally through education and will be covered yearly as they are celebrated. The curriculum does not have to be postponed for these theme days. The themes can be covered through a variety of creative and fun activities (Art, DT, stories, songs, dance, collective worship etc) which are not to add further workload but to enhance the wonderful teaching and learning that is already taking place. Subject leads can provide guidance regarding resources and activities and if any evidence is required to support their subject leadership role.
